Write a Contract with Your Kids

Because teenagers are more likely to follow guidelines they help create, get together to design rules and consequences that work for you both. Then consider putting the details in writing to make sure you’re on the same page (now and in the future). Use the sample contract below as a guide to establish rules about drugs and alcohol.

Create a Contract

Set clear rules about drinking and drug use for your teen - and provide guidelines for open communications for both of you.

Your Child’s Name: __________________________________________

Your Name: ________________________________________________

_______________________ agrees:

[Child’s Name]

☐ I will not drink or take drugs

☐ I will not drive while under the influence of drugs or alcohol

☐ I will not get in a car with someone who has been drinking or using drugs

☐ If I feel unsafe or uncomfortable, I will call you, my parent or guardian, for a ride home

☐ I will be honest

☐ I will talk to you when I am upset, scared, or confused - even if I’m afraid you’ll be angry or disappointed

☐ I will be accountable for my actions
[Parent’s Name] agrees:

☐ I will make myself available to you whenever you need me

☐ I will provide a comfortable, safe, respectful place to talk honestly

☐ I will keep an open mind

☐ I will listen

☐ I will not overreact or judge you for things that don’t make sense to me

☐ I will love you for who you are

[Child’s Name] agrees:

I commit to this agreement and recognize there are consequences for every decision I make. I promise to respect you and honor our relationship.
